Dear Friends,

This has been such a devastating time for so many in Texas, Louisiana and Florida over the last few weeks. The cleanup from Harvey has begun in Texas and Louisiana. Many are traveling home from our area this week to see what remains of their homes and businesses in Florida. While we were very blessed that we did not receive a lot of damage, we see the pictures and know what heartache so many are feeling. In our community, these images have brought back the devastation of Katrina just 12 years ago as so many resettled in the Wiregrass after losing everything in Louisiana and Mississippi. Wiregrass Habitat for Humanity, with your help, built homes for 24 families who chose to make the Wiregrass their home. Our thoughts and prayers continue to be with those affected by these storms as they work to rebuild over the coming months.
